To ensure accurate designation and proper acknowledgement of your gift, please let the Stonington Free Library know about your plans for a stock gift by contacting the Development Coordinator (contact information listed above). We anticipate that once the shares of stock have been transferred, the gift will be acknowledged in writing by the Library within 14 days. The acknowledgement letter will set forth the value of the shares as of the date they entered the Library's account.

If your broker or bank holds the certificate

To transfer stock using the DTC automated system, your financial agent needs the following information:
